Issue 2

Wow, what an incredible first full week we have had! I hope that I have managed to meet most parents at drop-off or pick-up, but please do feel free to approach me if there is anything you would like to discuss. I am always happy to stop for a chat, even while I am still putting names to faces.

Mrs. Carr and I have spent much of this week in classrooms, and it has been wonderful to see so many happy, smiling faces fully engaged in their learning. We have also welcomed most of our fantastic new Reception children on a full-time basis. They have settled exceptionally well and have approached their new routines with enthusiasm and confidence. I suspect many of them will be ready for a well-earned rest this weekend!

This week has also seen the introduction of a slightly different approach to lunchtime at Bosmere. Children have enjoyed greater opportunities to move freely between activities, more structured and unstructured play options, and a range of sporting activities led by our sports coaches. There has been a real buzz around the playground, and it has been lovely to see pupils from different year groups interacting so positively. Mr Garnham was particularly keen to tell me about the goal he scored on Wednesday!

One of the highlights of my week has been observing some of the practical mathematics activities taking place across the school. The use of manipulatives and concrete resources is an important part of developing mathematical understanding, particularly in the early years and Key Stage 1. It was a pleasure to see children confidently using these resources to explore concepts, deepen their thinking and explain their reasoning.

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to say a heartfelt farewell to Mrs Cridge, who leaves us this week. During her time at Bosmere, she has made a significant contribution to the school community and has touched the lives of many children and families. I know she will leave with many fond memories, and I am sure that she has made a lasting impression on those she has worked with. On behalf of everyone at Bosmere, I would like to thank her for all she has done and wish her every success and happiness for the future.

If you have any old button down shirts that you could donate to use as painting shirts, that would be much appreciated.

Kittle has been booked to come into school on 25th September for school photos. Please ensure that children are in full school uniform, as they would be any other day. The uniform guidelines can be found on our website for clarification.
